Returned Correspondents Declare Final Tragedy is Inevitable

REPEAT IRISH CRISIS

France in Germany to Face Same Situation as Britain in Ireland

By LAURENCE TODD

General Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — How long before the French in Germany will face the same situation as the British in Ireland?

How long before a war of extermination will have to be fought from the consent of Lloyd George to the French demand that they be permitted to go in and collect war indemnity from the Germans at the bayonet point?

Returned war correspondents here, offering advice to the Harding administration, disapprove as to the period of time which will elapse before the final tragedy is realized. They agree that the horror of a new war is now inevitable.

One of the most widely-read of the propagandaists, who looks only for the arrival of a general collapse of European industrial and financial institutions as the outcome of the advance of the French beyond the Rhine, points this picture:

He sees the French soldiers and the German citizens irritating each other into a petty quarrel, followed by the shooting of a few score of Germans as an object lesson. Then the German pride will assert itself, and a general campaign of individual acts of violence, emerging from a policy of passive resistance to the French occupation, will be developed. French hunger for indemnity and reparations will lead to a wholesale seizure and paying off of personal property in the German areas where violence is being urged. Assassination of French soldiers will be the next step. German prisoners will be taken and war will gradually be re-kindled.

His expert sees the French, in the event of Russian intervention, cutting off coal and iron resources of Germany, and finally French conducting a retreat to the Rhine, laying waste to the industrial districts. By this means France will have not only the industrial region of northern France, but will have destroyed the possibility of early reconstruction of the industrial societies of Europe. France can now look herself, and as she owes the other powers she need not worry over the starvation of millions of workers in Britain and Italy who will be deprived of employment if Germany is made an economic desert.

This is an extreme—possibly a fantastic—view of the immediate future of western Europe. Yet conservative newspaper men who spent years in Europe during and since the war are impressed with the desperate willingness of the French government to take a step which would admittedly mean suicide for the existing economic order on the Continent and in Britain. They believe that the European labor movement, largely represented by the International labor union, is powerful enough to stop the French advance, and the ruin of commercial life and production which will result.

Varsity Movie Queen is Chosen for Coming Production

Georgiana Kimberley Picked to Play Leading Role

Georgiana Kimberley '23 has been chosen to play the part of Varsity Movie Queen. If Jack Harding the hero, is an Apollo Belvedere, the heroine can only be likened to "The Age of Innocence," when she makes her first appearance as Rosa Belle Lilly, the little country girl who finds herself a bit lost in the big university.

But she doesn't stay lost—how could she with a face like that?—and not only does she find herself, but the hero also finds her. But that's skipping.

Georgiana Kimberley was graduated from the Nichols Seminary high school in Chicago in 1918. While there she took part in many entertainments as a solo dancer. She has never appeared on the screen before but she performed in public at the Fine Arts theater and orchestra hall, and danced at many benefits during the war.

She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and of Mystic Circle. Her father is Percy R. Kimberley, vice-president and manager of the Cable Piano company, Chicago.

FINANCES OF MADISON IN GOOD SHAPE

But Sinking Fund Must be Considerably Strengthened

DOHR REPORTS ON AUDIT
Net Worth of City Fixed at $5,192,004.30 by Expert Accountant

By HENRY NOLL

There is still an urgent need for the building up of the city's sinking fund, in the opinion of James L. Dohr, expert accountant, whose report on the auditing of the city accounts will be submitted to the council Friday night. The finance committee passed on the report Thursday night.

According to the report the sinking fund reserve balance, as of Dec. 31 last, is made up of the annual installments raised by taxation, interest on sinking fund cash and investments, and premium on bonds sold, the aggregate amounting to $590,085.79. Against his balance, which should be available to retire non-serial bonds, there exists in the form of cash and investments aggregating $498,536.20. In connection with these assets Mr. Dohr points out that many items will not be available within the required time to meet non-serial bonds falling due. Mr. Dohr finds the financial condition, insofar as the building fund is concerned, improved as compared with Dec. 31, 1919, but adds that there is still urgent need for the building up of the fund. The sinking fund reserve includes $72,320.79 of earnings which will be transferred to the general fund when the non-serial bonds are retired.

Assets and Liabilities.
The total assets and liabilities of the city are listed as follows:
Total assets $10,747,534.82
Total liabilities 5,555,530.52

Net worth of city $5,192,004.30
This includes all the assets of the city exclusive of those pertaining to the school board and the board of industrial education. The water department accounts are also shown separately.

The report further points out that the condition of the trust accounts, as of December 31 last, indicates that the city has set aside sufficient assets to cover the liability as trustee to the pension and cemetery perpetual care funds.

With improvements during 1920 the value of the city's property totaled $3,492,900.83. Mr. Dohr declares that his report on the financial condition of the city does not include the large deficit of the school board which, he says, together with the condition of the sinking fund, "represents the most serious aspect of the city's financial condition and future financing must always take this condition into consideration."

The revenues for the year were $11,102.11 in excess of the expenditures which, Mr. Dohr says, indicates that the city had followed out the budget for the year.

Mr. Dohr found the records and accounts in the city auditor's office in good condition and he speaks highly of the painstaking care exercised by Auditor E. F. Bunn with the result that the examination of the accounts has been made with a minimum of difficulty.

Badger Rate Case Argued In High Court

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Opening arguments before the supreme court today in the Wisconsin rate case, counsel for that and 42 other states, declared that the transportation act as construed by the Interstate Commerce commission to give the commission control over state rates "is destructive of one dual form of government and contrary to the spirit of our constitutional."

Counsel for the railroads argued that the committee had full authority to right the injustice caused where a state had "claimed an unfair advantage over sister states who had acted liberally in the public interest."

M. B. Olbrich, special counsel for the state of Wisconsin, appeared for the principal appellant and John E. Benton, general solicitor of the National Association of Railway and Utility commissions, represented the numerous state bodies.

The simple issue before the court, Mr. Olbrich declared, was whether "congress has authorized unified control over commerce" in the transportation act. If such control was attempted, he said, the act itself must be found invalid since the supreme court has many times held "the completely internal commerce of a state may be considered as reserves for the state itself," to survive.

Bruce Scott, general solicitor of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, who opened for the carriers, said there could "be no doubt, in the light of the condition of the country, of the power of congress and of the commission" to protect the whole commerce of the country.

Kenneth E. Burgess, general attorney for the Burlington and Alford P. Thom, of the National Association of Railway executives also were heard for the carriers.

Solicitor General Frierson obtained permission to submit a brief in behalf of the Interstate Commerce commission on the ground that the government was interested in upholding the authority of an executive branch.

1200 BADGER TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Association Hears Governor Urge $1,000,000 Fund for Schools

MANY EXPERTS SPEAK
Kingsford and Meek Talk to Southern State Educators

Wisconsin should set aside all inheritance taxes paid into the state treasury—$1,000,000 was collected last year—for the use of the public schools, said Gov. John J. Blaine in an address before the 31st annual meeting of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association Friday morning. More than 1200 teachers attended the opening sessions at the Madison high school and the Strand theater. The governor spoke before both assemblies.

Proceeds from the million and a half acres of state land set aside for school purposes in 1847 have been squandered, said the governor. He expressed the hope that the legislature would adopt his suggestion to pay inheritance taxes into a special school fund instead of into the general fund.

After the governor's address Pres. A. C. Kingsford of Baraboo delivered his annual address. G. O. Banting of Wausau presided at the elementary school session held at the high school auditorium. Carter Alexander of Madison emphasized the need for selling the school to the public. Prof. M. F. Haggerty of the University of Minnesota discussed Some Pupils I Have Known. Charles S. Meek, Madison superintendent of schools, spoke on elementary school problems.

The new method of instruction was described by Prof. W. A. Miller of the university high school in a talk before the high school, normal school and college session held at the Strand theater Friday morning. John Dixon of Columbus presided. Prof. L. V. Koss of the University of Minnesota declared that the junior high school is necessary to satisfy the awakening interest and emotion of the adolescent pupil. Movies are a universal institution, said Prof. Richard Burton of the University of Minnesota, and it is time the intellectual people of the country were demanding that they have more of life in them.

Friday afternoon was given up to sections devoted to special subjects. The teachers were to reassemble at the high school auditorium at 4 o'clock to hear Prof. Haggerty speak on The Measurement of Intelligence.

Mark Twain—The Man and His Message, will be the subject of Prof. Burton Friday evening at the high school.

The convention will conclude with a business session Saturday morning.

SUGGESTS SPEAKER
"You are lucky to have an opportunity to get instruction at this wonderful institution—I'd rather be flunked at Wisconsin than get a diploma from any other university," said William Reese, advertising manager and director of sales of the Sterling Motor Truck Co., Milwaukee, by way of encouraging the university students and residents of the state to "talk Wisconsin" speaking at a student convocation held as part of the commerce week program, Thursday afternoon.

"We ought to be able to talk Wisconsin fully as well as the other fellows talk California or Texas. Four of the things we're proud of, our law and our state and our cheese and our game," suggested Mr. Reese.

RAILROADS TO SLASH WAGES

Sweeping Reduction is Contemplated by Officials

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—Steps to bring about reductions in the wages of skilled employees probably would be taken by many railroads throughout the country so soon as adjustments can be made in the pay of unskilled workers, according to officials of the association of railway executives. Such reductions if made, will be handled individually by the various roads in the same manner that present announcements of cuts in pay for unskilled men now are being made, it was said, with no attempt at concerted or simultaneous action by the railroads.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A general move by the nation's railroads to cut war-time wage scales, long forecast by rail officials, appeared to be in full swing today. Following the lead of several lines which earlier had announced cuts, the N. Y. Central and N. Y. Officials of various lines today were arranging conferences with employees in an effort to reach agreements on the proposed reduction.

Birge Commends Event of College of Agriculture as "Profitable to All"

With all indications pointing toward a successful show, the 12 committees of the Little International exhibition, the big annual event of the College of Agriculture, are making final preparations for the program which will open Saturday at the Livestock pavilion. The last meeting of committees would be held today, A. L. McMann '21, general manager, announced yesterday.

Six searchlights have been erected about the pavilion for use at the evening show. The lights will be manned by delegated Agriculture engineers, who have arranged also special announcement placards for the acts.

More Killed at Grade Crossings Than in the Revolutionary War

In Hearing on Grade Separation Bill, Senator Bennett Presents Startling Figures on Railroad Finances and Control, Riordan and Killilea Oppose

By FRED L. HOLMES

The big legislative fight to compel the railroads to bear the expense of grade separation was placed before the legislature Thursday afternoon by Sen. J. Henry Bennett when he advocated his bill to accomplish that purpose. Sen. Bennett said that passage of Esch-Cummings Law entirely changed his position on the subject and that he believed these dangerous crossings should now be safe by grade separation. In his argument he was seconded by T. A. Manning, and Walter Mattison, both representing the city of Milwaukee.

Sen. J. H. Bennett

Arguments in opposition were made by D. E. Riordan, Eagle River, representing the steam roads of the state, Henry Killilea, Milwaukee, representing the St. Paul road and Judge Fletcher, Chicago.

"The tremendous increase in the number of automobiles licensed and driven upon the highways brings about an entirely new and different economic condition than heretofore," said Sen. Bennett. "The increase in the total number of automobiles and trucks during the single year 1920 is so vast that we can scarcely comprehend it. At the end of the year 1920 there were 9,295,252 licensed automobiles in use, against 7,604,016 at the end of 1919."

in order of the dangerousness of the crossings eliminated. But the expense under this changed situation should be borne entirely by the railroads, and by them in turn passed on to the commerce of the country.

"The Department of Engineering of the Railroad Commission has supplied me with a great deal of data collected by the Commission on this subject. It is found that there are 9,600 public grade crossings with the various steam railroad tracks in this state. These crossings are approximately one-half urban and one-half rural. On the basis of prices existing prior to 1917 the cost of separating grades of the rural crossings would amount to about $15,000, for an overhead structure, and about $25,000 for an underpass structure."

Among other statements made by Sen. Bennett relative to railroads generally and regarding their financial condition he stated that the public had been defrauded by millions of dollars by the railroad interests under the cost plus contracts with equipment companies controlled by the same banks that controlled the railroads. By means of blue prints he showed that two New York banks and trust companies, dominated by J. P. Morgan and Co. and represented by 25 men, sat on the directorate of 99 class-one railroads in the United States. He asserted that the six hundred million dollars provided to be paid to the railroads by the Winslow act approved in the last hours of the administration of ex-President Wilson, was a six hundred million dollar steal. He showed that the same group of Wall street banks that controlled the railroads in the United States largely controlled the coal companies, the steel companies beside other interests.

Henry J. Killilea, speaking in behalf of steam railroads of state said that present grade separation law in Wisconsin was one of the most meritorious laws that had ever been enacted. The present law permits the railroad commission to apportion the cost of grade separation.

"In point of grade-crossing accidents Wisconsin holds 18th place among her sister states. Wisconsin has 750 grade crossings on her state trunk highway system, alone. Under this bill, if it is enacted into law, the dangerous grade crossings in Wisconsin may be eliminated, the expense thereof charged to the railroads and the railroads will distribute the cost over the widest possible area, diffusing the expense throughout the entire United States. Wisconsin should get its share of benefits, if there are any benefits to be obtained, under the Esch-Cummings law, and the only benefit which it seems to me we can obtain, practically speaking, is to let the United States pay the expense of these separations."

"I would not propose that all of Wisconsin grade crossings be separated in one year,—that may be worked out by the railroad commission."

LETZ QUARTET IS WELL RECEIVED BY MADISON AUDIENCE

Program Given at Music Hall by Famous Organization Proves Delightful

BY GENE BLAIR.

The Letz string quartet, concert Thursday night at music hall proved a rare delight for both trained musicians and humble music-lovers. Every member of the organization is an artist, yet it is the quartet as a unit which is the performer. The program was a delightful study in poise, and exquisitely blended ensemble.

The opening number, played from manuscript, which commanded added interest because it was written by Fritz Kreisler, probably the foremost living violinist, is a real contribution to musical literature. It is a quartet of haunting, tragic melodies, treated with arresting musicality. Particularly notable was the second movement, a glittering allegro played with superb verve. The number was so enthusiastically received by the audience that Tschakowsky's lovely Andante Contabile was given as an encore. The second number was the well known Schubert Variations on Death and the Maiden, long a standard of chamber music literature. The last number, opus 22, is a gorgeous composition of stupendous difficulty. The applause was again so enthusiastic and insistent that the quartet played a second encore, an Adagio by Georges Bizet, the composer of Carmen.

INGALLS BILL PASSED TODAY

Blaine care to summon the legislators following this session or at such time that the investigators were ready to submit their findings.

The first test of strength came on a motion to defeat the resolution, the motion being lost 34 to 55.

Suggestions that the tax commission could furnish more information than any special committee could dig up, brought Mark Catlin, Appleton, to his feet with the statement, that the only report that could be expected from that body would be more commission legislation and he thought the state had too much of that at this time.

In order to make sure that the investigating committee report would be made at some time in the near future, Assemblyman Grandine offered an amendment that this legislature should not adjourn sine die until the second Tuesday in January, 1922, but the amendment was rejected when Mr. Ingalls stated that it was contemplated that the report should be made at a special session to be called by the governor.

Assemblyman Tuffley expressed doubt that the state could get men to serve over a period of months without compensation, but Assemblyman Perry recalled that such important subjects as the teachers' retirement fund and marketing were investigated by non-salaried committees.

Assemblyman Bartingale was against the resolution on the ground that it seemed like passing the buck.

Mr. Ingalls pointed out that solution of the taxation problem means too much to the people to be passed over hurriedly. He recalled that a special committee worked years on the present workman's compensation act.

"Taxation is the most important proposition before the people of the state," he said. "As matters are some of us do not know how to vote intelligently on this question. We should know what we are doing when we vote."

"The committee can report to a special session of this legislature, and there will be no strings tied to this committee."

Assemblyman Dahl said that Mr. Ingalls' position was well taken, but he was forced to oppose the resolution for the reason that legislative candidates in his country pledged themselves to use their best efforts at the earliest possible moment to get tax reform.

Passage of the Ingalls resolution in the assembly for a legislative investigation of the tax situation delayed the consideration of other tax bills on the house calendar. To await the action of the senate, the house delayed until next Wednesday action on the Hanson personal property offset bill. This bill has been recommended for death by a five to two vote of the committee. If it passed merchants and others with personal property would not be permitted to use these tax receipts as an offset against their state income tax. The C. E. Hanson tax will be a special order for Wednesday. Action was also deferred on the Goodman bill to increase the exemptions under the income tax law.

The house refused to reconsider by a vote of 52 to 22 the vote by which it killed the Fowler bill providing that a son, who is a lawyer, can not practice before his father sitting as a judge. This bill was aimed at Judge Higbee in La Crosse.

Assemblyman Conway's eight hour day bill was made a special order for next Thursday. The house killed the bill offered by Assemblyman Jones on request which would tax all hospitals, unless they received the patients from all physicians. Scores of petitions were received in the legislature against this bill.

PLAN GUIDES FOR EXPOSITION

Students to Show Visitors to the Various Exhibits

In order to avoid confusion among the people attending the University Exposition, which will open April 21, student guides will be furnished, according to plans announced yesterday. No additional charge, however, will be made for the service.

"Because of the fact that we will have over 4,000 out-of-town guests we have developed the idea of having a large number of official guides," said W. B. Flores '21, general manager.

"The Exposition will use all the available space in the armory on the third floor to the annex and in addition we will have the electrical exhibit in the electrical engineering laboratory. It was the experience at the last Exposition in 1915 that visitors from other parts of the state left before they really covered the ground not knowing where the other exhibits had been placed. It is to avoid this and to offer the typical Wisconsin service that we will have guides."

A large number of guides will be necessary that they may be used in shifts for both afternoon and evening. With the continuous show for three days and special added attractions differing every day it will probably call for the services of 100 or more guides to supply the demand.

A special "course" will be given the guides on Wednesday, April 20, the day before the Exposition opens. They will make the rounds of all the exhibit so that they may make full use of their cardinal megaphones when conducting their parties through the laboratories of the 10,000 square foot of floor space covered by the departmental and college booths.

STATE NEWS

ORGANIZE PIGEON CLUB. SHEBOYGAN—The Sheboygan Pigeon Flying club has been organized for the purpose of affiliating with the American Racing Pigeon Union, the greatest racing pigeon organization in America, and to compete in all class races, according to Arno Meves, president.

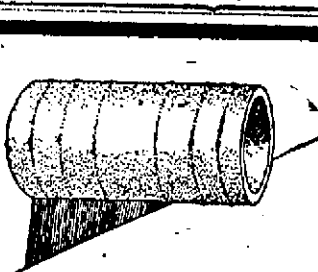

NEW AUTO LINE. RHINELANDER—An automobile stage line will be placed in operation between Tomahawk and this city the coming summer, it is announced. The arrangement is made for the convenience of tourists and traveling men.

HAS LOW VALUATION. SHEBOYGAN—Sheboygan has the second lowest valuation of city property for tax purposes in any of the 20, first, second and third class Wisconsin cities so far this year. It is 78.80 per cent, and the tax rate in mills is 86.3.

HAS BIG ATTENDANCE. WAUSAU—At a two day farmer institute held recently at Marawa, Waupaca county, the attendance at the five sessions was over 2,300, which is considered a record for Wisconsin farmers' institutes, according to County Agent F. G. Swoboda.

MANY GET BOUNTIES. RHINELANDER—The records of the county clerk's office show that for the two months of the year 1921, ending March 1, a total of 40 certificates for bounties for the killing of wild animals has been issued. Of this number 18 have been for foxes; 17, for cats; four, for bob cats, and one lynx.

CREATE NEW LAKE. CHIPPEWA FALLS—A beautiful lake within the city limits of Eau Claire is to be created by the building of an eight-foot dam across the Chippewa river at Shawtown. The Eau Claire Civic and Commerce association with the backing of nearly every other civic body is going ahead with the proposed plans.

COST OF DRAINAGE

The cost of drainage varies according to conditions and localities but a swamp has little value. Once cleared and properly drained, it has distinct value. Any farmer can compute this value himself, from an unprofitable patch eating up taxes and having no actual sale value it steps into the ranks of a producing area.

Farmers Will Gather at Janesville Wednesday

Stoughton Men to Attend Meeting to be Held at Samson Plant—Baseball Men Meet

By C. J. ROLLIS
STOUGHTON—H. H. Emery and Ed. H. Johnson will attend a get-together meeting of farmers in Janesville next Wednesday. The gathering will be held at the factory of the Samson Tractor Co. These Stoughton men handle the Samson tractor and the object of the meeting is to see how the machine is made. There will also be a truck exhibit. W. F. Duffee of the University of Wisconsin will give a talk on "Real Facts About Power Farming." There will be continuous concerns by the Samson Tractor band.

Stoughton baseball enthusiasts met with Dr. Amundson of Chippewa Falls, Wis., at the home of Hines of Sun Prairie in Madison this week for the purpose of organizing a baseball league. Stoughton has not been connected with a league for a number of years. Those who went to Madison were George Barry, grocery merchant, Martin Anderson of the Model Clothing Co., J. C. Johnson of the Hale Dry Goods Co. Middleton has been holding out.

Hy to Madison
The Hy club was in Madison Wednesday night, about 23 strong, escorted by V. V. Varney, the local Y. M. C. A. secretary, and Selmer Larson, former principal of the Stoughton high school. The Stoughton Wagon Co. truck belonging to the Stoughton Lumber & Supply Co., was utilized in hauling the party, which returned home yesterday morning. At Madison there was a pie eating contest, in which William Olson of Stoughton won first prize; the Madison Hy winning the ball game.

The farmers belonging to the Holstein-Presian club will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 in the city hall. Among those who have made a success of Holsteins for dairy purposes is Anfin Moen, who is also a leaf tobacco dealer. Oregon and Brooklyn have similar clubs. For a time the Jerseys were considered the most profitable, owing to the richness of the milk.

The Sons of Veterans post meets this evening in regular session at the G. A. R. rooms, city hall.

Lee Brothers of Stoughton are moving into Rutland, where they will conduct a farm they bought of J. A. Ostrude, town clerk.

Alf Amundson, employed as a teamster by Jens Paulson, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Legried for auto speeding.

Albion teachers and pupils will visit Madison Tuesday, under escort of Miss Weisman, supervising teacher in the First District of Dane county. There will be about 60 in the party.

Miss Burnson, county nurse, gave an address yesterday to the pupils of the teachers training course at the high school. It is Miss Burnson's purpose to speak about twice a month to the same class.

Factory Notes
The Stoughton Wagon Co. has received 21 orders for its big motor trucks since March 1, which might not look big to the larger factories, but for a beginning the returns of efforts made during the dull times are satisfactory. Eight of these trucks go to various parts of Michigan; two to Minneapolis and the balance are Wisconsin sales.

Stoughton workmen have been offered 20 cents an hour, but declare that they ought to have as much as the wife, who is guaranteed 22 cents an hour.

The village of Brooklyn has been given 24-hour electric service from the power at Prairie du Sac. Mrs. Farland wants similar lighting, but the village authorities have been told that it would require an expenditure of about $40,000 to make connection with the high tension wires two miles away, where the farmers of the community have such a light in their homes and stables. This same system supplies light at Stoughton along with the local dams and other powers.

Personal and Otherwise
John Fedjestad, who has been tenant on the farm of Sam Teisberg, Pleasant Springs, will operate the Alfred Harvey place the coming year, removing to the new location April 1. Mr. Fedjestad was formerly employed at the Moline factory in Stoughton.

N. W. Fox and M. E. Goodrich of Madison were Stoughton callers yesterday. Mrs. A. J. Root, Prospect ave., has been a Madison visitor.

The city schools adjourned today so that the teachers might attend the convention of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association at Madison, which also continues tomorrow.

Ole Nordness, former superintendent of the Stoughton electric lighting system, had an accident at Oregon, Ill., breaking his collarbone. His son is express agent at Stoughton.

The Odd Fellows encampment meets this evening.

Mrs. Charles Hippenmeyer and Mrs. Percy Hippenmeyer went to Madison yesterday for a visit.

Mrs. S. A. Chase has been a visitor with her son, F. A. Chase of Stoughton, who is ill at Edgerton. He is suffering from internal troubles. The fuel business at Stoughton, conducted by Mr. Chase is managed by William Keegan, who has been the office man a number of years.

H. O. Hale, of the Hale Drygoods Co., accompanied his grandmother as far as Chicago yesterday, who was enroute to her home at Barry, Ill. She had been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. P. I. Hale.

Mrs. Gus Roe and Mrs. Eddie Ausse went to Madison yesterday for a visit. Nelson Brothers sent their undertaker to Madison yesterday after the remains of Carl Ellingson, who died at the general hospital. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, Rev. Oscar Thompson, the pastor officiating.

Interment is to be at Riverside.

Otto Johnson, South Page st., who has been ill, was removed to Richland Center yesterday, where he will reside for a time.

Miss Emma Giberson, who had an operation at the Mercy hospital in Janesville for removal of mastoid abscess, went to that city yesterday to have the wound treated.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Montague will spend Sunday with their children, Cecil Montague and family and Mrs. Wallace Bowman and husband.

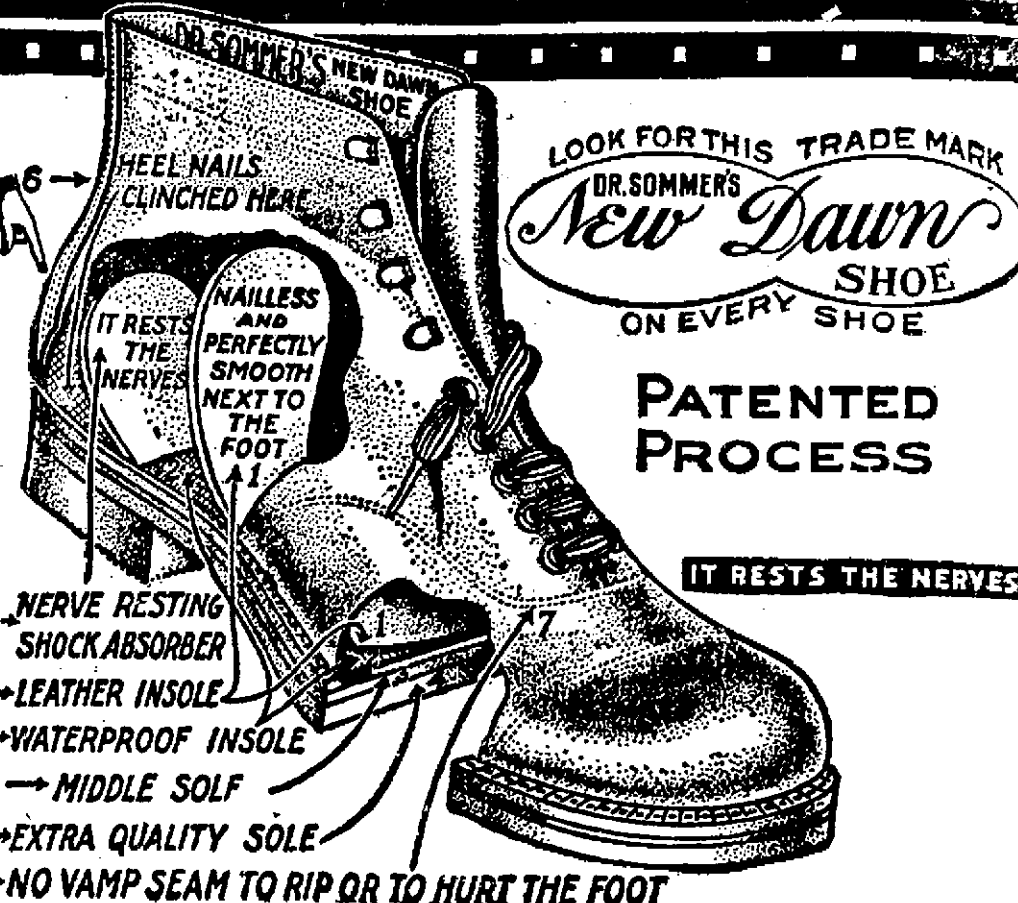

William Glass, former buttermaker at the milk plant of the Stoughton Marketing Co., spent yesterday in Stoughton. He came to purchase the cream output for Janesville parties by whom he is at present employed.

S. L. Scheldrup, druggist will return during the day from Chicago. A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frank, Clay street.

Helmer Brickson is home for an over-Sunday visit with his family. He has been in northern Wisconsin for his firm.

A NEW ROOF IN EVERY BARREL

An insurance against fire, sparks and cinders, will not cling or pit it.

"SPREDDON" reclaims every type of worn roofs: canvas, gravel, sheet metals, corrugated iron, shingle and composition roofs can be saved and renewed with "SPREDDON." It stops all leaks; sealing seams, gaps and crevices.

"SPREDDON" is not a paint nor a cement. It is scientific roofing composition of long asbestos fibre, pure asphalt and refined preservative oils.

"SPREDDON" forms an unbroken protective sheeting of water-proof, weather-proof armor, which prevents deterioration and decay.

"SPREDDON" will not run, check or peel. Heat and cold, producing expansion and contraction, do not affect its tough, elastic consistency. Sun or rain will not soften it. Gaseous fumes do not injure it.

"SPREDDON" is easily applied. Lay it with a wide, long handled brush. It flows into an even, uniform surface which does not show laps or brush marks. Sets equally well on perpendicular as well as flat surfaces.

"SPREDDON" flattens curled and warped shingles, levels corroded spots in metal roofs, lays evenly over valleys and ridges of corrugated iron roofs, resaturates and renews paper and composition roofs of all kinds.

"SPREDDON" is a glossy, unfading black. The hard, smooth surface sheds water like glass and is a guarantee of purity when rain water is collected.

"SPREDDON" Ready Roof Saver is a veritable blessing in these days of prohibitive prices of labor and materials. By selling direct we hold prices to a minimum.

Banish hammer and nails, saws and patches. Lay your new roof with a brush. If your roof still holds together, "SPREDDON" will save it.

Don't replace old leaking valleys and gutters with expensive new metals; reline them with "SPREDDON."

The unusual covering capacity, the low price per gallon and the ease and speed in applying, makes a "SPREDDON" roof cost but a mere fraction of the expense of a new roof and remember

Mendota Institution is Sending Veterans Home
Improved

"The Mendota hospital is sending home boys in an improved condition at the rate of three a week and there is every reason to hope that 60 per cent of them will be cured," was the report given Wednesday at a meeting of the Service Star Legion in the G. A. R. headquarters at the capitol. A full report of all the relief work done since the war was given and plans for the proper use of funds for the future were discussed.

All kinds of cases concerned with ex-service men are carefully attended to by the organization. Whenever a family is in trouble, Mrs. John Lucy, chairman of general relief, is in constant readiness to assist in any worthy cause. The Service Star Legion is now re-organized to include the sisters, daughters, and grandmothers as well as the mothers. The organization has been put on a regular dues basis. An appeal was made by the president, Mrs. E. H.
Van Ostrand, for members and funds. The Legion had over 2,000 members in the time of war, and is the largest organization of its kind in the state.

The business was relieved by a solo by Mrs. J. P. Hyland, and a selection on the violin by Miss Anderson of the Wheeler school of music.

Alexander Kornhauser Company ANNOUNCING The Opening of Our New Rug Department SATURDAY, MARCH 12th

This announcement comes close on the heels of the celebration of the 23rd birthday of this store which started in 1898 purely as a dry goods concern.

"HEALTH PERFECT NOW" DECLARES MISS HYDE

"Tanlac is Only Medicine I've Tried That Does Just What They Say It Will Do,"
Says Milwaukee Young Woman

"I just cannot begin to tell all this grand Tanlac did for me, because it brought relief after everything else had failed," said Miss Myrtle Hyde, 506 Twenty-seventh St., Milwaukee.

"I don't believe anybody ever had stomach trouble any worse than I did. Sometimes after eating I had such awful smothering spells I collapsed and fell to the floor. It makes me shudder to think of them. I lost all appetite and even the odor of food nauseated me. I had to give up eating everything but soft boiled eggs, rice and fruit. I had rheumatism so bad that every bone in my body ached, and I suffered from headaches and backaches, too. I was miserable all the time.

"I feel like a different person since taking Tanlac. My appetite is splendid and I never have any of those awful smothering spells, now. All my aches are gone, and in fact I am in perfect health. The other medicines I tried, are as different from Tanlac as night is from day. Tanlac is the only medicine I ever tried that does what they say it will do, and I feel it is my duty to recommend it after what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold by the Luckey Pharmacy.—Adv.

HEAD OF FRENCH CHARM CLUB OFFERS PROOF WOMAN IS LOVELIEST AT FORTY

Fanny Ward, who bravely confesses to being forty-six, left; Valli Valli, who is just thirty-nine, upper right; and below is Charlotte Walker, who says unblushingly she is forty-three.

Woman is loveliest at forty," according to the expert opinion of Countess Andree de Tavernay, a French woman, who heads up what is called the French Charm club. The countess herself admits to forty-one and looks twenty-five. There are any number of American women, famous for their beauty and charm, who are forty or older. Of course, many of these fair ladies are lovely, but they will not admit to being forty. Here are three, however, who confess to their real age. Fanny Ward, who seems to have found eternal youth, is forty-six. Valli Valli, the well known musical comedy and motion picture actress, is just on the doorstep of forty, being in her thirty-ninth year, and Charlotte Walker is surely a lovely bit of feminine charm although forty-three.

MILK

Time is Health Time

HEALTHY, happy children are a joy forever.

Everyone loves romping, healthful youngsters. They bring happiness to the hearts of mothers; they ensure our nation's continued greatness.

Mothers will keep their children healthy in body, alert in mind, by using milk as the first and most important food in the family diet. Use milk first.

MILK—the Protective Food

Milk adds to the disease-resisting power of the human family. Science has fixed milk as the one incomparable food without which infant mortality and dietary diseases get beyond medical control.

In hours of health, protect your children by feeding them liberal quantities of milk.

The Milk Way is the Health Way

Milk is a childhood necessity for it contains all of the energy essential to life, health and growth. Milk is a protective food for adults renewing and re-energizing both body and brain. Dr. E. V. McCollum says, "at least a quart of milk per day is the correct allowance for each child."

The U. S. Government says: "Milk, in a manner which no other food can exactly duplicate, preserves the health of the growing generation."

At The Theaters

AT THE FULLER
A film adaptation of Jack London's celebrated "The Star Rover," telling of the adventures of a tortured physician into the mysterious regions of the unseen, in the effort to clear up a strange murder, will be seen at the Fuller theater for three days, beginning today, as the feature attraction.

AT THE STRAND
Is it possible for a crook to reform? Many policemen assert it cannot be accomplished but officers of correctional institutions say it is not an impossibility. But William S. Hart, the famous Paramount star, proves that bad men can reform in his latest photoplay production, "The Cradle of Courage," which is now being shown at the Strand theater.

AT THE GRAND
Joseph H. Dowling, who since his wonderful delineation of the Patriarch in "The Miracle Man," has come to be known as "The Miracle Man of the Screen," comes to the Grand theater today as "The Kentucky Colonel," the leading character in a screen version of Opie Read's well known novel of that name.

AT THE MAJESTIC
"All at Sea," a nautical farce, is the featured offering of Bert Smith's Ragtime Wonders at the Majestic commencing today. A cleverly woven plot that builds up comedy situations to a hilarious climax gives the players many opportunities for laugh getting. Many attractive musical numbers and specialties are interwoven.

At the Orpheum—The Golden Troupe of singers and dancers presenting features of the Russian group of artists is the superior and more exacting entertainment of the new Orpheum bill. They possess some real talent of these vigorous backgrounds of native scenes. Walter Weems came back with his southern accent and new repertoire of humorous anecdotes. Two popular horn solos as a finish made the evening very popular. The Joe Jenny Lind comedians and singers humorize for a few numbers and between notes abuse the small member to afford amusement from him and the spectators. Potter and Hartwell have an acrobatic and dancing act that moves with a speed that bespeaks ability and knowledge of its principals. Renie and Florence sang and danced through the second act without much audible regard in the form of applause. Jack Burns and Henry Bert have a touch of wit in their strong man act which puts them over in big time style.

JANESVILLE—How the number of arrests has decreased in Janesville is shown strikingly in February police report, which lists only 11 arrests, the smallest in the city's history. In the same month last year there were 200 arrests and the corresponding month in 1919, there were 88.

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

There was great excitement on the farm the next morning, for the doctor's horse had been driven into the barnyard and tied while the doctor, set a broken leg for a man who had fallen through a hole, from the hay loft, upon a mowing machine that was stored in one of the rooms beneath.

This horse brought the news that there was going to be a county fair in town, a fat stock show, running races, a display of fruit and vegetables, for which judges would award prizes to the owners of the largest and most perfect specimens. There was also to be a display of poultry and cooked things, such as preserves, canned fruits, pickles and cakes.

"I heard one of the judges talking to Mr. West this morning, as I stood before the postoffice, and they stood on the steps, saying that he would be expected to send specimens of all the things raised on his farm and also that he was on the list to furnish a horse to run in the races."

All this was indeed exciting news for it meant that some of the animals that he had heard these words would be chosen to be fattened, primed and made ready for the fair.

Prince and Major, the two stallions, pranced around in great glee, for they were sure that they would be chosen to go to the fair. "You may and you may not be selected," said Billy to the two prancing stallions, which remark brought them to a sudden standstill before him to learn what he meant. "I meant this, that I think Mr. West will choose Fleet, the three-year old colt, to be trained for the race, for she is the fleetest footed of all the colts; I hope she may be chosen, for she is certainly as fine a specimen of horse flesh as I have ever seen, and I consider myself a judge on these matters."

"Ha! ha! ha! ha! laughed Prince, "Excuse my levity, but when, may I ask, did you acquire your wonderful knowledge? On a little farm down east?"

"No, not on a farm, but—in a circus—where one sees the finest horses in the world. And may I add that in this circus they had nine perfectly matched, trained stallions, any one of which was a thousand times handsomer and smarter than you are, Mr. Prince."

"Did you say that you had been in a circus?" asked Prince, too much astonished at the news to feel angry at Billy's cutting sarcasm.

(Billy is envied by all his friends because of his circus life.)

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen years old. I have been keeping company with a fellow about four months. He is twenty-five years old. He left town a few months ago. After he went I heard from him a few times. Now it is getting so I don't hear from him at all. I wrote him three or four letters, but I got no answer.

When I first met him he didn't want me to go with anybody but him. Should I write to him again and remain his friend, or should I have nothing more to do with him. Do you think he cares for me? He gave me a ring. Should I give or send it back to him, or should I keep it. I like him, but he doesn't do the right thing by me. I also have his watchchain, his necktie clasp, his picture, etc. What shall I do with them? As long as I went with him he was nice and respectful.

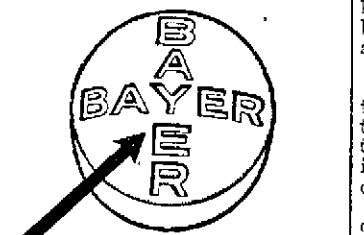

DOLLY.
Do not write to the young man again unless he writes to you first. It looks as if he has found a new interest and that he no longer enjoys his correspondence with you.

If two or three months pass from the time you heard from him last and you do not see him or get another letter, send the ring he gave you and his belongings back. I do not believe he cares for you or he would not ignore your letters.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years old. About a month ago my mother became ill

Steamed Eggs—Wash the eggs, put them in a covered-kettle of boiling water and remove from the fire. Let them stand for seven minutes. Take from the kettle, put in a bowl and cover again with boiling water and send to the table. The whites will be soft and creamy and the whole egg perfectly cooked.
Nut Loaf—One cup of chopped nut meats, one cup of mashed potatoes, one cup softened bread crumbs, one tablespoon chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, two eggs. Add a little water if it seems too dry. Put into a greased pan and bake about one-half hour.

This recipe is a help in using leftovers and it is a nice left-over itself. It is very good sliced cold or reheated and served with a white sauce.
Pear Salad—Fill the cored hollows of canned or stewed pears with mayonnaise dressing, sprinkle with chopped English walnuts. Serve on a bed of watercress.

TESTED RECIPES.

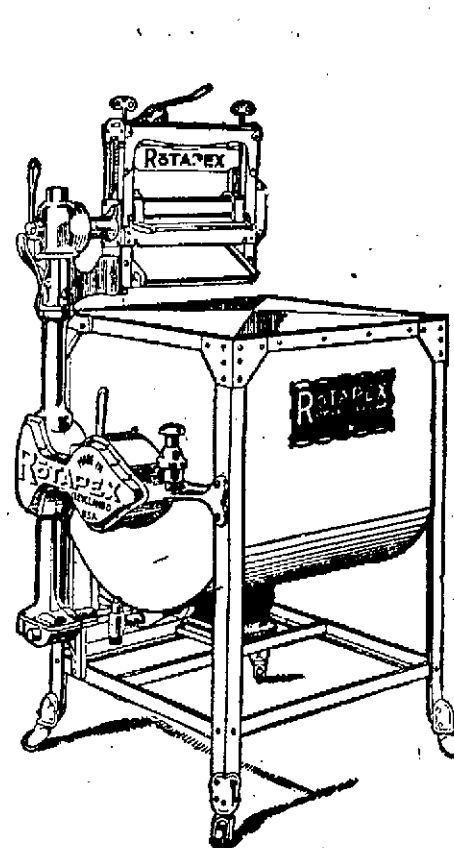

Walnut Macaroons—Beat one egg white until very stiff, add slowly one cup brown sugar, beating constantly. Fold in one cup of nuts (English walnuts or black walnuts) that have been put through food grinder. Drop from point of spoon on a buttered pan and bake in a moderate oven until they are a delicate brown.

Baked Oysters—Take one and one-half cups of toasted bread crumbs add as much finely chopped onion, celery, parsley and sage as desired, add salt and pepper, and stir in a beaten egg and a tablespoon of butter. To this add one-half pint of oysters. If the mixture is too dry to form a loaf add a bit of water. Sprinkle the loaf with bread crumbs and melted butter and bake in a covered dish.

Meat and Tomato Pie—Drain one can of tomatoes and place a layer in a buttered baking dish, then a layer of thinly sliced meat, then dredge with flour, pepper and salt. Alternate the meat and tomatoes until the dish is nearly full, having the tomatoes as the top layer, and cover with bread crumbs and bits of butter. Bake in moderate oven for 40 minutes.

Apple Pudding—Half cup cornmeal, four cups milk, one teaspoon Here's Your Idea of What an Electric Washer Should Be!

The ROTAPEX

"UNITIZED" ELECTRIC WASHER

An Electric Washer purchase involves the decision and approval of the entire family. Mother judges by

The Speed, Simplicity and Results
Father is interested particularly in

The Safety, Construction and Durability

The Rotapex is an improved cylinder type electric washer. Repeated tests have proven that best results are obtained when the clothes are gently tumbled in the soapy water from five to six revolutions. More turning wads and winds them—less revolving does not agitate them enough; in either event they cannot be washed evenly or thoroughly. The Rotapex cylinder turns forward 5 1/2 times, then quietly reverses automatically for 5 1/2 turns.

No moving part is exposed—the metal guards and exclusive automatic safety devices remove all possibility of accident or injury through forgetfulness or otherwise.

The Rotapex wringer is power operated and of the reversible swinging type. It is operative in Four Positions. By a special automatic locking device, the wringer becomes locked in one of these four positions before power can be applied to the rollers.

LICENSE FEE TO BE REDUCED

Ordinance Committee Would Cut Near-Beer Saloon Permits from $100 to $25

Reduction of the license fee for the operation of near-beer saloons from $100 to $25 a year was agreed upon by the license committee of the council Thursday night. It was also decided to strike from the ordinance the provision which requires the giving of a surety bond. City Attorney Ryan was instructed to redraft the measure to embody the changes.

The committee also decided to permit the Elks to hold an indoor circus and an industrial exhibition at the Four Lakes Ordinance plant, April, 2-9, for a nominal fee.

HELD FOR JURY ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Joe Capaci of Madison, arrested Thursday night charged with carrying a pint flask of moonshine liquor, was bound over to the federal grand jury under $500 bonds Friday morning by U. S. Commissioner Fred W. French.

OSHKOSH—An extensive program of road building is to be carried out in Winnebago county during the coming season, plans for which are now being put forward. One of the chief projects will be the completion of the concrete highway between Oshkosh and Neenah on what is known as the Jackson street road.

High School Notes

By GERALD McMAHON

Madison high school debaters are almost certain of getting into the finals for the states' championship. They have won six victories this season and have suffered no defeats. In the past year, although several times recognized, there have been no finals and so Madison has been unable to win an undisputed championship.

BARS ASHES AND CINDERS FROM WALKS

Sprinkling of ashes, cinders or any sooty substance on sidewalks will be prohibited if the council adopts a recommendation of the ordinance committee which Thursday night voted in favor of amending the ordinance so as to allow the use of only sawdust or sand. At the request of a number of leading merchants the committee also voted to recommend an amendment to the billboard ordinance, permitting the placing of signs on two story buildings. The committee also will recommend that front entrances to public garages to be erected hereafter be built inward and that the doorway be played at an angle of 30 degrees with the face of the building. Garages now in existence must continue to use the bell system or foot horns when cars leave the building.

STOCK MARKET TAKES SLUMP

Rails and Leading Industrials Continue to React

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Liquidation of railroad shares made further perceptible progress at the active and heavy opening of today's stock market. Atchafalpa and Southern Railway preferred forfeited a point or more in the first few transactions while Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific, common and preferred, lost large fractions. Leading industrials also continued to react, especially steels and equipments. Shipings, motors and their accessories and food and leather specialties were heavy.

Exchange on London showed no material change from yesterday's final quotations.

Our New Store will please you. No wait—no rush—just "get it" yourself.

Lay in a supply. Store at 412 State Street closed for one week.

Announcement

Since the opening of our store at 412 State Street one year ago last November, we have never been able to serve the vast crowds and deliver the service that they are entitled to receive. Always being desirous of promoting the efficiency that has worked the steady progress of the Universal Grocery Company, we therefore, announce a change of system in our State Street Store to a serve-self grocery.

In order to install the new equipment that will make our store one of the most up-to-date stores in this section of the country, we are compelled to close the store for one week after the close of business Saturday night, March 12. We advise our many customers to lay as much of a supply in as possible that will hold them during the installation of our new equipment. We are sure that a self-served grocery will solve the problem, and insure our many customers prompt service. After that all you will have to do is to step in, wait upon yourself, and pay the cashier for what you get. The New

CHANGE PLEA IN HAMON CASE

Woman Enters Plea of Not Guilty as Trial Opens

(By the Associated Press)
ARDMORE, Okla.—Clara Smith Hamon went on trial for the alleged murder of Jake L. Hamon under an amended information, to which, she, through her attorneys entered a plea of not guilty, it became known today.

The original information which in Oklahoma has the status of a grand jury indictment in other states, asserted that Clara Hamon did kill Jake L. Hamon with a leaden bullet fired from a pistol she held in her hand.

Clara Hamon bowed her head and sobbed today when the prosecution told the jury that Mr. Hamon, describing the shooting, said he "Never had a chance; the old man never had a chance; she shot me as I lay about like I am now."

Hamon was on a hospital cot when he made the statement to Erret Dunlap of Ardmore, said Atty. Gen. Freeling in charge of the prosecution.

Freeling said Hamon and other friends were together when a telephone conversation summoned him to his rooms. At about 8 o'clock, Freeling continued, Hamon left the hotel, walked quickly to a hospital and there told that Clara had shot him, and "don't tell it until you have to; spare the wife and children."

COMINGS RAPS CONSERVATIVES

Says Conservatism Has in Past Brought World Disasters

"I would rather be called a bolshevism, a soviet, a socialist, than a ultra-conservative," said Lieutenant Governor Comings, in an address on American Ideals, before the Wisconsin Women's Progressive association in the city library Thursday night.

Mr. Comings divided people into classes, progressive and conservative; forces, dynamic and static.

"Conservatism has smitten the world. It caused the American revolution, the civil war, and the world war. In every case has the ultra-conservative caused the delay in the progress of the world."

The question of what America really is was answered by Mr. Comings when he declared it to be a "bundle of visions."

He said, "When there is no vision the people perish. It is well for the people, the community and the nations to have ideals."

America has held up to the world three ideals—the ideal of religious liberty, the ideal of political equality, which is true this year with the women in franchise and with a saloonless nation; and the establishment of a public school system."

America was mentioned as the first nation to give education collectively to every boy and girl. An equal plane is being reached between the poor men and the rich men's children, declared Mr. Comings.

Mr. Comings said that, "it is impossible to have the right kind of government with the supreme judges up for life."

"Democracy will be founded on the Golden age. The only way to serve God is to serve your fellow-men every day of the week," he concluded.

Madison High Basketeers Win At Whitewater Sectional Tourney

EVANSVILLE IS DEFEATED BY MADISON HIGH

Locals Win 14 to 5 at Tourney; Varsity High Wins

By GERALD McMAHON

Madison High defeated Evansville High School in the first game of the Whitewater sectional yesterday afternoon by a score of 15 to 4. The result of the game was never in doubt. The Madison short pass game completely baffled their opponents who also found the capital city fives three man defense impenetrable. Every man on the local team played as a part of a machine. The performing of Bud Walsh, diminutive forward for the victors was the talk of the fans. His dribbling and pivoting were in themselves little short of marvelous. Time and again he worked the ball down within striking distance of the basket by a series of beautiful pivots and accurate passing to his team mates.

Tallard Also Stars
Tallard at the other forward proved a wonder on the offense and a glutton for work. He was in on every play and proved a wizard at breaking up the small town boys offense.

Capt. Diebold also played a wonderful game. Together with Friedle and Green he composed an almost flawless defense. Their work was far above the work of their opponents' guards.

The reorganizing of the team by Coach Graven proved the right solution for the slowness of the team. Brown, former yellow and black center, has developed an unknown infection and is being left on the bench until he is fully capable of replacing either Green or Friedle. His addition to the locals at the present would make them practically unbeatable.

Confidence reigned supreme in the Madison camp last night. The Endres men are confident of coming through and coping the tournament. They have the greatest of confidence in their new assistant coach Mr. Graven. From the looks of yesterday's game the Madison aggression look almost like a sure bet. The one thing to be guarded against now is over confidence. Mr. Graven is not the man to let a team of his receive that setback.

Yesterday's game was replete with thrills. This was caused especially by the wonderful individual playing. In spite of this the Madison team work was almost flawless. The locals are at least sure of staying the whole three days at the tournament. Their victory assures them of it.

WHITEWATER, Wis.—With hundreds of rooters peering into the city early Thursday morning, the inter-sectional high school basketball tourney was opened Thursday afternoon. The big normal gymnasium was crowded to capacity at all of the games, which were all hard fought and well played.

The scores on Thursday were as follows: Madison 14, Evansville 5; Milton, 19, Janesville 9; Jefferson, 9, Watertown 6; University High 9, Waterloo 3.

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Niagara and Shawano entertained with the feature event in the opening games of the inter-sectional high school basketball tournament which opened here on Thursday. Niagara managed to cop a close victory, 18 to 16. The other scores, although one-sided, were all made as the result of hard fought games. They were as follows: Fond du Lac, 29, Menasha 10; Neenah 24, Maryville 16; Oshkosh 36, Ripon 9.

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee normal basketball tournament opened Thursday afternoon. Results: Racine 22, Manitowish 6; Whitewater 14, Sheboygan 9; West Bend 30, Beaver Dam 10; Waukesha 21, Burlington 9.

East End Baseball Team is Planned

Plans for the organization of an east end baseball team were made at a meeting held at the Emerson school. Positions on the team were assigned.

Catcher, McNamee.
Pitcher, Parkinson.
1st base, Mahoney, Goss.
2nd base, Swanson.
3d base, Kurth, Knorr.
Center field, Quilty.
Right field, Ziebarth.
Short stop, Zeinolt.

A meeting of those interested in the team will be held Tuesday evening, March 15th, to discuss the means of securing equipment.

Christy's Son Will Follow Dad's Steps

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—Christy Mathewson Jr., who with his father, has been a resident here for several months, is to make his debut in the role of pitcher for the Saranac Lake High school. The pocket edition of Big Six is one of nine pitching candidates, but Coach Jack Walker says he is a whiz with "something on every ball he throws," and that he will be the big decoration in the Adirondack school league.

ROUND YS RAZZBERRIES

Gene Cannon, and Grayjack, will meet at the Turner hall Tuesday night in a grudge match. We have seen Grayjack in action here once before and he is the best 122 pounder that has ever boxed here.

He worked out with Kansas at Milwaukee Tuesday and Rocky wanted to take him east with him to work with for the Leonard match. He is also booked to take on Danny Krammer, the eastern flash, for the semi-windup at the next big show at Milwaukee.

Eddie Trainor who saw the Kansas-Mitchell tilt to gain a few pointers will take on a tall bird by the name of Scott. I suppose you all heard that Ed will meet Jack Neu, at the next show in the windup.

And Ed was not supposed to appear on this next card at Pedder, his manager, claims Ed likes to knock them out, so why lay idle. If he doesn't put this bird away then he might lose the Neu match.

So it looks like the whole west end will be there to pull for him to make his knockout record like Babe Ruth's home run record.

I was busy all day yesterday answering how tough "Rocky" is and how he would stack up against Leonard.

You could hit him with an ax and the result would be that you would break the handle.

Rocky will stay the 15 rounds with the Champion when they meet in N. Y.

About the only thing that would stop him would be a hand grenade.

The Boyds have got some prices on their seats this time that the fans ought to eat up. A ring side seat for $2.20. They will just about stage one more show after this one at Turner Hall, then for their big arena at Lake Side.

They have some stuff about set to pull at the big place that will make the local fans feel proud of Madison as a fight center this summer. They will have top notchers on most all their cards. It will cost more for a ticket and it will cost a lot more for the Boyds stage it also.

Bill Metzendorf wants to bowl his brother Eagle for a new hat. After seeing the one Bill wears now wouldn't it be a shame not to let him win a new one.

The St. Louis cards are in mid-season form already due to the fact that they have lost first three games in the south.

Michigan has been awarded the rough and tumble and upper cut basketball championship of the conference.

Judge Landis gives his first decision in baseball yesterday and no congressman has as yet yelled his head off.

And if he is as easy on ballplayers as he is on bank clerks then baseball under Landis is off to a bum start.

LAUNCH PLANS FOR '21 STATE BASKET MEET

Committees Announced for State High School Tourney Here March 25-27

Initial preparation for the second annual state basketball tournament of Wisconsin high schools, which will be held March 25, 26, and 27 at the university gymnasium, was made yesterday by the Athletic board by the selection of general committees.

The committees, which will assist the Athletic department in the tournament, are as follows: Francis W. Duncan '22, general chairman; Lothrop W. Follett '21, Daniel C. O'Neill '23, and Francis W. Morris '24, programs; Carson F. Lyman '21, Daniel C. O'Neill, publicity; Dexter Brown, Frank L. Weston '21, and Theodore White, entertainment.

District champions chosen
The first tournament of this kind was held here in March last year, and was such a success from both the standpoint of athletics and that of finance that the Athletic board decided recently to hold another this year. At the district elimination contests held at all the Wisconsin State Normal schools, the winning team of each district was chosen to represent its section at the state tournament at Madison.

Ten teams competed in the tournament. One team from each of the Normal schools and from Stout Institute also entered. All teams were evenly matched. The only team that seemed to have a decided advantage over its opponents was the Superior team which won the championship. Loving cups and gold basketballs were awarded to the champions and silver basketballs to the winners of second place.

Cedar Rapids Cops Title
Teams representing the middle west states competed here one week after the state tournament for the championship of the middle west. Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school won the championship from Winfield, Kan., by one point in one of the most sensational basketball games ever staged in Madison. Superior, Wis., won third place. Trophies and cups were awarded to the winners of the first three places.

During the tournament, visiting high school players were entertained in the lodges of the various fraternities of the university, and escorted around the city and the university by upperclassmen. They were guests at dances, banquets, and smokers and the enthusiasm manifested by the visitors proved the success of the affair.

Plans have been made to make the tournament this year more successful than the last. It will be an excellent means of displaying the advantages of Wisconsin to high school athletes who may later become students here.

Cockran Now Leads Horemans by 68
DETROIT, Mich.—By consistent playing in Thursday night's block of the 3,600 point 18-2 billiard match, Welker Cockran forged 68 points ahead of Edward Horemans, European champion, the score at the end of the sixth block being 1,800 to 1,732.

Cockran's high run was 99 and he had but one poor inning in the evening. Horemans, who went ahead in the afternoon with a run of 297, made a high run tonight of 175.

NEW YORK—Negotiations are in progress for the return of Casey Stengel, outfielder of the Philadelphia National league baseball team to the Brooklyn club, according to word from the Dodgers' training camp in the south. It is reported Manager Robinson is willing to trade either Wheat or Smith for Stengel. He was traded to Pittsburgh by Brooklyn several years ago and afterwards shifted to Philadelphia.

BOSTON—The Boston Braves had their first workout at their spring training camp at Galveston on Wednesday, after several days of rain and fog. In the afternoon Catchers Hank Gowdy and Mike O'Neill chose teams for the Braves' first real workout. Gowdy's squad won, 10 to 7.

SHOU FALLS, S. D.—J. E. (Bobby) Alden, third baseman for Sioux Falls in the South Dakota league last year, was sold to Moline, Ill., in the Three I league on Thursday.

GYMNASTS ENTER ANNUAL BIG TEN TUMBLE TOURNAMENT

Compete Today and Tomorrow in Conference Meet at Bloomington

Wisconsin tumblers will finish up the gymnastic season at Bloomington, Ind., today and tomorrow when they compete in the annual Big Ten gymnastic meet. In addition to all of the conference teams, Nebraska, a member of the Missouri Valley conference, will enter a squad of turners.

Wisconsin won the first meet of the year against the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. team in easy fashion, but the Badgers lost to Chicago last Saturday in the only dual conference meet of the season. The final score was 1,161 to 1,131. Chicago gathered in 29 place points to 24 for Wisconsin. Schneidmeyer and Morris starred for Chicago.

Of the teams which are entered in the Big Ten meet, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Chicago, and Minnesota are considered the strongest. Illinois is practically out of the running for championship honors since the Suckers scored only two place points in their meet with Chicago.

"In holding Chicago to such a close score Wisconsin showed that it has one of the best gym teams in the conference," declared Coach Fred E. Schlatter. "The Maroons are rated among the best of Big Ten turners. With our team intact excepting Berke, broadswordman, who may not be able to go to Bloomington, we stand an excellent chance of winning first place in the meet. Aanesen will replace Berke, if the latter is unable to enter."

"Nebraska is the dark horse of the conference meet, but judging by the showing made by the Badgers, we will finish one, two, three in the last competition of the year."

TRACKMEN TO FACE OLYMPIC STARS IN MEET

Hardest Contest of Season is Expected Saturday With Notre Dame

In excellent condition and fresh with victory over Northwestern, the Wisconsin track team will be given a light workout today in preparation for the Notre Dame track meet 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium annex. Although Notre Dame has a galaxy of track stars, including two Olympic entrants, the chances for the Badger team are considered equal.

Meet Crack Men
Notre Dame, with two Olympic stars in the lineup, will give Wisconsin closer competition than did Northwestern. Johnny Murphy, one of the best high jumpers in America, and August Desch, holder of the world's record in the 40-yard low hurdles, are two of the best track and field men who represented America in the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium.

In addition to Murphy and Desch, Coach Knute Rockne has Wynne, a hurdler who tied the national record in the 40-yard low hurdles at the First Regimental games held in Chicago two weeks ago. Notre Dame will bring a squad of 15 men, including Shaw, shot putter; Montague, McNamee, Hogan, Meredith, and Falvey.

Leu Takes Lead in Billiard Meet

Vaughn of Chicago, ran into a tie for first place in the tournament Thursday afternoon with Leu of Rockford, Ill., by defeating Harry Daw of Detroit, 125 to 98, in forty-seven innings. Vaughn had high runs of 17 and 16. His opponent's highest run was 15.

George Roemer, local pin knight, was the individual to class, topping the pins for a 640 set which put him in eighth place.

INTERCOLLEGIATE FOOTBALL RULES MAY BE CHANGED

Rules Committee is Meeting in N. Y. to Consider Alteration

NEW YORK—The annual meeting of the intercollegiate football rules committee, for consideration of proposed changes in the playing code of 1921, will be held here Friday. Numerous suggestions advanced by coaches and other authorities in college football will be discussed.

Among the suggested changes in the rules are:
That an extra period shall be played in case the regulation game ends in a tie.
That a forward pass, grounded behind the line of scrimmage, shall become a free ball.

That a game shall be based upon a certain number of plays instead of a certain number of minutes, as prevails at present.
That after a safety has been scored, play shall be resumed on the 40 yard line instead of the 20 yard line, according to existing rules.
That the kick for goal after touchdown shall be eliminated.
That numbering of players shall be compulsory.

Assemblyman Is Grooming Gannon For Madison Bout

Edmund B. Grunwald

A member of the Wisconsin assembly will be in one corner Tuesday, March 15, when Walter Grayjack, of Madison, meets Gene Gannon of Buffalo, at Turner hall in a 10 round go at 122 pounds.

The assemblyman, Edmund B. Grunwald, of Milwaukee, a former newsboy, boxer, salesman, and now a manager, is grooming Gannon. Grunwald, who celebrates his 22d birthday this month, is the youngest member of the legislature.

Assemblyman Grunwald has announced that he has an offer from a Montreal club for Gannon to meet Joe Lynch, the bantamweight champion; and also an offer to meet the winner of the Johnny Hogan-Sammy Martell fight at Janesville next Wednesday night.

Behind the line of scrimmage, shall become a free ball.
That a game shall be based upon a certain number of plays instead of a certain number of minutes, as prevails at present.
That after a safety has been scored, play shall be resumed on the 40 yard line instead of the 20 yard line, according to existing rules.

ATHLETES FROM ALL COLLEGES IN GREAT MEET

Plan National Collegiate Track and Field Meet, Biggest in U. S.

Wisconsin will in all probability take part in the first meet of the National Intercollegiate association which is to be held in Chicago June 11, according to an announcement of the committee in charge of the meet. The date was decided upon by the three leading athletic heads of the West, Coaches A. A. Stace, John L. Griffith, and T. E. Jones, of Chicago university, Illinois, and Wisconsin respectively.

Circulars were sent to the various colleges, and universities of the country to ascertain which date could best be used for the meet in view of the crowded calendars of track events late in May and early in June. The event, the first of its kind to be attempted in the United States, will bring together the cream of all track and field athletes in America.

The eastern intercollegiate and the Missouri Valley conference are always held on the last Saturday in May, while the western conference games generally are decided on the first Saturday in June. Efforts will be made by the committee to have the Big Ten change the date for its games to conform with others throughout the country.

Holding of the western and Missouri Valley conference meets on the same day will deprive athletes west of the Mississippi river from taking part in the Big Ten affair. In past years the great majority of athletes in the Missouri Valley conference came east for the other games on the Saturday following, and this will be an important point to be considered when the Big Ten is asked to move its date ahead one week.

"War To End War"

Members of Congress Callously Discuss Use of Poison Gases; Would Spend $1,500,000

DURING the war the civilized world was horrified by the stories that came from the battle fronts concerning the use of poison gas as an instrument of warfare.

The word "Hun" was coined to express the contempt which the world held for the authors of such a mode of warfare.

There was recently before the house of representatives (and the bill was passed without a record vote) a measure appropriating $1,500,000 for the research work into the use of chemical warfare.

Read the following extract from a debate that took place on the bill in the house of representatives:

Mr. Sisson—"And it is hell, and when we get into war, I want America to make it so hellish for the enemy that he will realize he has been through perdition before he gets through with Uncle Sam. (Applause.)"

Mr. Montague—"If the gentleman wishes to make war more hellish, as the gentleman has suggested, most eloquently, would the gentleman subscribe to the poisoning of wells and springs?"

Mr. Sisson—"No, I would not do that."

Mr. Montague—"How can the gentleman get away from his argument if he will not do it?"

Mr. Sisson—"I do not want women and children who are not combatants to be killed, but if as a matter of fact I could poison a well and none but the enemy's soldiers drink it, bless your soul, I would poison the well and destroy the enemy's army and save the lives of our own boys."

Mr. Humphreys—"Is it not a fact that the use of gas is the most humane method of fighting?"

Mr. Sisson—"One of the most humane methods, because, in the first place, if you have gas, the death is more certain, quick, and speedy than it is to leave them wounded and bleeding and dying on the battlefield."

Mr. Denison—"Now, as another means of making the death more certain, I wonder if the gentleman from Mississippi would approve the use of poisoned bullets so that the wounded would also die?"

Mr. Sisson—"As a matter of fact, I must confess I have reasoned about it—and I believe I have got a kind heart—I do not see very much difference in shooting a man with a bullet that is poisoned and one that is not poisoned. We are trying to kill him anyway."

Have the American people become so callous and indifferent to right and wrong that its public men dare to put into public record such sentiments as the above without hearing from this country? Can it be that, following the recent war "to end war," that this country is preparing to spend $1,500,000 to make itself perfect in the art of killing men by such barbaric methods?

The public men of the world continue to make a lie of the war with each day. We were told that the war was to end militarism. The powers of the world are today feverishly building up military establishments that will rival those of the Prussian regime. We were told that disarmament would come. A new secretary of the navy (a friend of those who make money out of war) says in taking his seat that he wants the United States to have the greatest navy in the world. Whereat, England and Japan proceed to lay a few more keels.

And now we have the spectacle of the United States appropriating money to perfect itself in the use of poison gases.

MORGAN AND THE MARKET BILL

THE bill creating a separate department of markets to supersede the division of markets, which has been introduced by the agricultural committees, and which is favored by the division of markets, by the governor and by progressives generally, is of most vital concern to the farmers of the state.

It would probably do more to immediately improve agricultural conditions and correct the evils and abuses which now afflict the farmers than any other measure of the session.

It has been carefully drawn, and reflects great credit on Attorney A. C. Reis of the division of markets who prepared it.

Attorney-General Morgan, addressing the joint committee hearing, suggested that the provision that the commissioner of markets shall not hold stock in any warehouse or transportation company, should be broadened so that no employee in the department could hold any such stock. Further, he wanted inserted a provision that the commissioner of markets and all employees of the department should be prohibited from doing anything to influence voting at primaries and elections. We would not be opposed to this, (perhaps we would not), if there were also a law passed prohibiting the Attorney-General, his deputies and the employees in his department from holding any transportation company stock or from doing anything to influence the results of a primary or general election.

Then the Attorney-General wanted the power of the commissioner to issue orders, under the unfair practices section of the bill, and under other important sections, restricted so that the commissioner could issue orders only when the governor AND attorney-general approved of them. This would give the attorney-general a veto power over some of the most important acts of the market department.

The present attorney-general has shown himself so hostile in his attitude toward the organized farmers of the state that no member of the legislature who wants to see an efficient department of markets should vote for an amendment which will give Mr. Morgan power to nullify or hold up the policies of the market department.

Mr. Morgan also suggested that the present attorney for the division of markets should be made an assistant attorney-general, and that any future attorney for the department of markets should be appointed by the attorney-general. It would be better not to pass the market bill at all, important as it is, than to pass it with this amendment.

Voice Of The People

MEMORIAL PARKS

To the Editor of the Capital Times: Again the voices of our swivel chair patriots and saviors of American democracy are being heard throughout the state. This time it is to ask the legislature to appropriate $125,000 annually for the establishing and maintenance of memorial parks in honor of our war heroes.

For those who have watched the activities of these gentlemen in the past this memorial park camouflage does not hide its real purpose. Anyone with an ounce of brain can see the creating of a "State Planning Commission" and the chairman and commissioners drawing fat salaries for spending the appropriation of $125,000 annually, and as it appears to be the policy for commissions to spend more than their appropriation the $125,000 is only the beginning.

A statement was recently made in the press "that many schemes of honoring our war heroes have been suggested." Very well put, SCHEMES is the right word to use. I wonder if our soldier boys suggested this park system, or would not these soldiers who have suffered the horrors of war rather have the state spend $125,000 towards the care of war widows and orphans? Our boys who fought in the late war are too busy earning the money to make up their financial loss during their army service to buy automobiles and spend their time loafing about the parks. If the state of Wisconsin is in need of a park system let the war profiteer pay for it with his blood money as he is the only man who has the time and means to be touring around the state.

The 1921 Wisconsin legislature is not as dense as these job seekers may imagine and the people of Wisconsin are sick of these disgruntled politicians hiding behind our soldier boys to fatten their pocket books.

Let these evergreen office seekers get out on our Wisconsin farms for a while grubbing in the dirt and help produce the necessities of life instead of being leeches on society.

A Cornfield Philosopher.

As a follower of this great leader I have always been loyal to the Capital Times and have been a subscriber since it started.

Now then, what has happened to you of late? Have the big corporations got hold of you, and the big interests? I see in your pages every day pictures of senators who we all know are the tools of the big interests. Yesterday I saw Senator Burke's picture and I remember how you used to roast him in your paper. I saw Senator Bird also who has always been a stalwart. I have kept all the roll calls which you published and I find these men have always been wrong on all measures.

Have the big interests got hold of you too? If you keep on this way, printing the pictures of all these corporation tools, when my subscription runs out, I will stop taking your paper.

THE MATHESON BILL

To the Editor of the Capital Times: Is it lawful yet for a person, in our free country, to express an opinion on matters, as for instance, the Volstead and Matheson prohibition law?

In my opinion, the bone dry law is the most unreasonable, unchristian, unliberal and unnatural law ever imposed on the American people.

According to these laws, Christ, his disciples and followers were transgressors and sinners. Christ drank wine, made wine and instituted holy institution with wine. Luke 22, 17-20; 1 Cor. 11, 23-26.

Paul advised to one of his co-workers, 1 Tim. 5-23 to use wine and no longer water.

Prohibition is not in the holy scriptures.

The temperance law has even affected the Lord's supper by abolishing that kind of cup, the early christians used, and the most of the churches of today, for communion use little tiny glasses, the size of a lady's sewing thimble, a little bigger perhaps. That's why true Christians oppose such foolish laws.

If we turn to 1 Tim. 4, 1-3, we can trace what kind of people they are. This kind of laws: Now the spirit spoke expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron.

3 Forbidding to marry, and command to abstain from meats, which God had created, wine is created. Also included, Col. 2, 16—Let no man therefore judge you in meat or drink, etc. So you see, there will be people and there are now, who will be forbidden to eat, to drink and to marry.

Now comes the so-called Matheson bill, besides others, with another strict enforcement law, that some will fit about 2 Tim. 3, 5, and part of 6: For of this sort are they which creep in to houses; to investigate of course, if there is a cork smelling after whiskey, the way I understand about it. This explanation should show that prohibition and enforcement laws are unjust and robbing the people of personal liberty and drawing it almost on to bolshevik heels.

Christ was not a total abstainer, and no one is better than Christ. I was always strong for temperance, never voted wet, but also am not for prohibition. To my mind, the 18th amendment fits to the

WHAT NEXT?
In the days before the war life was very sweet. Bread cost but a nickel. In street cars you got a seat. When the Big Thing started, Prices began to soar: A dollar wasn't a dollar. And a five wasn't much more. And when they started asking For every worldly cause, The Red Cross and the White Cross, The Double Cross and the Horse, For the Y. M. and the K. of C., Foreign Welfare and War Stamps, For the Belgians and Armenians, For Homeless Cats and Tramps, Then Salvation Army, Liberty Bonds and War Tax, Taxes for your luxuries, And taxes for lame backs. I knew it was my duty. And to all of these I gave. But there is no use of kicking. I'm still outside my grave. Wood Alcohol runs rampant. They are signaling the stars; Now a rocket will be shot To put a dent in Mars. I certainly am enjoying this life. And I'm not the least bit vexed; For this reason I'm hanging on, To see what's coming next.

Sunday's papers announce that a new mysterious factor has been found in food. The only mysterious factor in food up to the present time has been the price. Compulsory theatergoing is the latest wrinkle in Russia. The soviet government cuts off the food cards of such persons as refuse to go and see the communist plays. We can only hope that the time will never come in this country when we will have to go and see all the shows, especially at the present prices.

YAP
If we've got to fight the Jap Over Yap, A place we never think of On the map, I suppose we'll have to do it. For the old red, white and blue, it Never backs out of a scrap Nor accepts a wanton slap. But we'd like to put a query. For this squabble makes us weary. If we're going to have a war, Tell us what we're fighting for. It may be a blithering rap. But, tell me, where in creation, Tell me where in thunder, Is this Yap?

A missionary has just started for the interior of the Malay peninsula to give the natives their first glimpse of motion pictures, which is one idea of civilizing the heathen.
